

Company launches cloud-based file storage

Technical Solutions, a unified communications company, announced it has launched a cloud-based file syncing and storage program to enhance business productivity for small- to medium-sized customers.

See BIZSTREAM, B12

The program's goal is to streamline daily operations for customers and enable businesses to collaborate, share and securely back up business files.

For more information on Technical Solutions, call 806-352-1309 or visit www.askts.com.

Source: Technical Solutions

