

TouchPoint Networks invited to attend TAG convention

TouchPoint Networks, a leading provider of unified communications, announced today that Gary Gonzalez, the company's President, will be attending Technology Assurance Group's (TAG) 15th annual convention.

The event will take place on April 19-22 in Savannah, Georgia at the Hyatt Regency.

TAG is an international association of independently owned unified communications companies representing nearly $350M in products and services in the industry.

The purpose of the convention is to bring together the brightest leaders and most progressive thinkers in the technology industry to share best business practices and mutually contribute towards one another's growth.

The overarching goal is to unveil and share practices that make each company deliver a better customer experience from start to finish.

The event is invite-only and is reserved for elite organizations with a track record of innovation, customer-centric business philosophy and a desire to serve their local community.

Each business represented is a pioneer in their respective marketplaces and the discussions will range from emerging technologies to new business practices to advancements in customer experience.

"This event is always packed with new ideas that keep us at the forefront of new developments in our rapidly advancing field," stated Gonzalez. "We find it very valuable to collaborate with other CEOs, Owners and high-performers to identify new ways of doing things."
